Bolt Express Named Carrier of the Year Again at the GPSNet Technologies Expedite Alliance Conference

For the third time in the past 4 years, Bolt Express has received the top honor being named the GPSNet AlliancePro Company of the Year for Highest Year-Over-Year Sales Growth in 2008 over 2007.

Bolt was recognized at the 6th Annual Expedite Alliance Conference held by GPSNet Technologies, Inc. in Las Vegas, Nevada this past weekend for the largest growth in revenue last year over the previous year. Ben Bauman, President & CEO of Bolt Express, attributes the growth this past year to "the expansion of our services to include not only Expedite, but Truckload, Logistics and Mexico." In 2008 Bolt Express significantly expanded their "Enterprise of Transportation Services". The expansion of these services has enabled Bolt Express to accommodate a full range of transportation requirements for their customers with mode specific diversity, geographical coverage and freight management capabilities. Sandy Stewart, Vice President of Bolt Express states "Our customers realize the increased value propositions we now provide to their supply chain distribution needs which has transitioned into the strong revenue growth we enjoyed this year." He adds "Bolt Express has every expectation that 2009 will be another strong growth year and we will strongly compete for top honors again."

Bolt Express provides a 24-hour, seven days a week, dock-to-dock, exclusive use transportation service for rush-critical shipments throughout the 48 states, Ontario, Canada and Mexico. Their fleet consists of cargo vans, sprinters, straight trucks and semi tractor trailers. Bolt Logistics, a sister company, also provides "Premium Transportation Management" (PTM), Air Charter Service and solutions for customers with critical shipment challenges.
